Steps and Directions
Discuss with PHISIM board the number of scholarships that are expected to be presented for upcoming year and the amount to be awarded.
Update the dates for the scholarship process to finish with awards presented at the April Dinner meeting. The template for the processing is in the next link. Then create a formal document to be used for the process which will be part of communications with academic members and student nominees.
Get the list of all SIM members who are from Academic Institutions. The expectation is that dues will be current for the upcoming year.
Review the list of current SIM members from Academic institutions. Update the list include only curent academic SIM members who are full time faculty at the instution.
Review the current list of academic SIM members list from this year with the list from the previous year. Update the list to be sure all current members are included.
If a member from the previous year is not on the current year, contact the member to see if they intend to extend the SIM membership. If the member does not extend the membership, the member is not able to submit a candidate for the PHISIM scholarship. If another academic member of that school and department from the school is a current SIM member, that member may become the member to nominate the candidate from the school/department.
Review the list of schools who are eligible for scholarships based on an academic member being a current SIM member for the current year AND the academic qualifications have been reviewed over the past 3 years. The worksheet if reviewed every year to decide the schools which need to be requalified as well as the addition of any new schools for the list. A school can only have ONE nomination per department/school. If more than multiple academic members from the same school but different departments are current/active members of SIM, both departments are eligible to be reviewed for qualificaiton and submission of a scholarhship candidate. For example, Temple had a current academic SIM member in the School of Arts/CSC department and the Business School/MIS department. Both schools/departments may be qualified and if accepted, each department may submit a name for a scholarhship candidate. The spreadsheet that is reviewed is listed in the next column.

Schools that are eligible to submit scholarship candidates must be "qualified" according to the PHISIM requirements. Schools need to requalify every 3 years. Based on the results from the spreadsheet list from the previous step, the school current academic SIM members are sent letters to request documentation for the requalification. A sample of the letter is listed in the link in the next column. The information sent for qualification includes the cover letter, the process timeline and the qualification form.
Review the submitted qualification documents and update the requalification spreadsheet with the information from submitted by the institution. Submit the request to PHISIM board members to approve the University. Note the updates in the spreadsheet.
If an academic institution needed to be requalified and it is approved by the PHISIM Board, send a letter to the Academic SIM member for the institution that the university has been approved to participate in the nomination.
Prepare a letter for each SIM Academic Member from the approved institutions to nominate a student for the current year scholarship. The letter includes the template, the process timeline and the student nomination approval template.
Update the spreadsheet with the list of student nominees.

Using the list of nominees send the list to Administrator to print the plaques
Review the list submitted by the administrator
Send the award letters to the students and faculty advisors. You need to include the student ID numbers for students at Temple and Drexel
CHeck on Plaque status
Contact former recepients request testimonial on current status and photo if available. Update the list to include the nominees for the current year.
Create the presentation for the April Dinner based on the current and past awardee submissions. You may need to ask each academic member for a short speech about the nominee to be used in the presentation and at the award ceremony
April Dinner Event includes presentation OR short description for each awardee.
